Forecast For Yorkshire & the Humber
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 01 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Patchy fog clearing to sunshine. Fog and cloud returning overnight.

Today:
Cloud and fog likely lingering near coasts and the Humber throughout. Further north any fog patches will clear through the morning to bright and sunny spells. Feeling rather mild with light winds and in any direct sunshine. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Fog and low cloud soon reforming this evening spreading to all parts overnight with a risk of frost and patches of freezing fog. Rather cold, especially in the west. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Tuesday:
Mostly cloudy on Tuesday with early widespread fog lifting into low cloud. Cloud will likely linger by day, with fog reforming once again overnight. Rather cool. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Mostly cloudy and foggy Wednesday, with brief brighter spells. Rather cloudy initially on Thursday, perhaps with a spell of rain followed by clear, dry and cold conditions into Friday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.